

Work underway to help veterans earn college credit for military experience

July 14, 2014

By Jackie Borchart,

COLUMBUS, Ohio -- Ohio's public colleges and universities are already at work establishing standards for granting college credit to veterans for their military training and experience.

In June, Gov. John Kasich signed into law legislation requiring the Ohio Board of Regents to create state standards for two- and four-year institutions and for state boards and certifications. The standards are to be developed by the end of the year and credit is set to be awarded beginning July 2015.

Panel Discusses Higher Ed Veteran Resources, Credits

July 14, 2014

Ohio Board of Regents Chancellor John Carey said he expects the guidelines set by recently-signed HB488 (Dovilla-Landis), the military veteran higher education policy portion of the mid-biennium review (MBR), will make the state “a destination for veterans, where veterans from other states will want to come here because we have such a strong program.”

Carey and other Board of Regents (BOR) officials were joined by Ohio State University (OSU) leaders on campus Monday to discuss the implementation of these policies, such as the requirement that all higher education public institutions ensure equivalent credit is awarded for military training, experience and coursework by July 1, 2015.

Chancellor Carey Visits OSU Veterans

July 15, 2014

Ohio Board of Regents Chancellor John Carey visited OSU to discuss the new law that supports Veteran students pursuing their degrees in Ohio. He was joined by OSU Vice Provost and Dean of Undergraduate Education Wayne Carlson, Mike Carrell the Assistant Provost and Director of the Office of Military & Veterans Services, and 3 Student-Veterans, John Haviland, Susan Knapick, and John Niznik.

The discussion highlighted some of Ohio State's recent efforts to support Student-Veterans Academic Success:
