Taylor Solicits Regulatory Reform Ideas for CSI Ohio: the Common Sense Initiative
Launches CSI Ohio Website, Email Address

Columbus – In order to collect ideas from Ohioans for removing barriers to job creation, Lt. Gov. Mary Taylor today launched a new website and email address for CSI Ohio, the “Common Sense Initiative.” CSI Ohio is available online at www.governor.ohio.gov/CSI or via email at CSIOhio@governor.ohio.gov.

“These tools will allow us to solicit the feedback and ideas of Ohioans and our business community to help tear down the barriers to job creation and economic development in our state,” Taylor said. “We are confident that, with their help, we can achieve the right balance of regulations that makes Ohio businesses competitive and protects the health and safety of Ohioans.”

The user-friendly internet site and email address allow visitors to share common sense solutions and sign up for periodic updates on the progress of CSI Ohio.

Taylor encourages those concerned about specific government red tape, rules and regulations prohibiting job creation in Ohio to visit CSI Ohio on the web at www.governor.ohio.gov/CSI or submit ideas to CSI Ohio via email at CSIOhio@governor.ohio.gov.

###

Gov. John R. Kasich and Lt. Gov. Mary Taylor launched CSI Ohio: the Common Sense Initiative on January 10, 2011 to reform Ohio’s regulatory policies to help make Ohio a jobs and business-friendly state. CSI Ohio will review Ohio’s regulatory system to eliminate excessive and duplicative rules and regulations that stand in the way of job creation.
